The new approach towards integration:

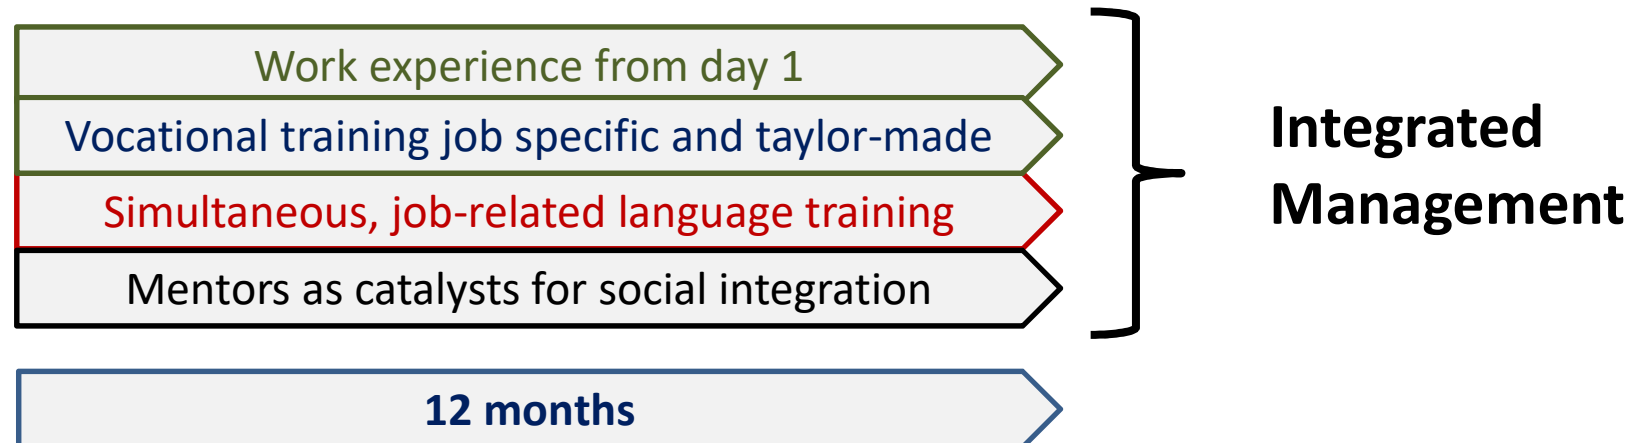

- Optimization of processes
- Review and relaunch of services and policies
- Multidimensional strategy, addressing policies, service delivery, service products, modes of communication, potentials of self-organization and civil society
- Implementation of time-based management methodologies (speed management)

Acceleration through ...

1. Co-Production with employers:
Early focus on specific jobs (and vocational training). Sector-specific design.

2. Simultaneous processing:
Integration of language training, vocational training etc.

3. Mentoring: Getting volunteers involved.

4. Case management: ONE contact person for all needs of refugees and employers. (“one face to the customer”)

5. Integration 24/7 (e.g. self-directed learning, leisure activities)

6. Family Services, Complementary social services, e.g. childcare

7. Self-employment
